Description:

The Redland Baptist Church Property is a 1½-story, 3-bay, side-gable cottage with bungalow features on the southwest side of Muncaster Mill Road in the Derwood vicinity. Constructed circa 1930, the building is rectangular in plan with a shed-roof enclosed porch addition on the rear.

The structure has a side-gable roof, covered with asphalt shingles. It is of wood frame construction with aluminum siding, and it has a stuccoed foundation. The windows are double-hung sash. The house has a 1-story, shed roof porch on the front elevation, much of which has been replaced with new materials. The porch rests on concrete piers and has a new wooden ceiling, posts, railing, balustrade and steps.

There are three outbuildings associated with this property. The first outbuilding is a barn, with a gable roof covered with metal. Constructed circa 1930, it is of wood frame construction and covered with vertical metal siding. The structure is located southwest of the house.

The second outbuilding is a garage, with a gabled roof covered with metal. Constructed circa 1930, it is of wood frame construction. The structure is located east of the barn and southwest of the house.

The third outbuilding is a shed. It is located in front of the barn and southwest of the house, and has a metal shed roof with vertical siding.

The property is located on the southwest side of Muncaster Mill Road, with residential property to the southwest, northwest and northeast and a large church complex to the southeast. There are a few trees on the property which consists of primarily open space. The lot slopes downward away from the road toward the rear of the property. The property's setting is residential with houses on the opposite side of the road and new construction to the rear of the property.
